White House Accord on Super Intelligence

Initial and follow-up answers, October 6 to 7, 2026

n = 1,008 U.S. likely voters, fielded online October 6 to 7, 2026. Weighted by gender, race, education, 2024 presidential vote, age, and attention checks. Percentages are weighted; bases in parentheses are unweighted. Approximate precision at 95%: ±4.1 percentage points; not a probability-sample margin of error. Initial and follow-up answers are reported separately, and each table uses its own base. Party identification as originally reported; independents include no party and other.

Q1. Initial question

Recently, President Trump and the heads of six major tech companies (OpenAI, Google, Meta, Anthropic, xAI, and Nvidia) signed the "White House Accord on Super Intelligence," a voluntary pledge aimed at responsible innovation. Under the accord, each company agrees to:

1. Put robust controls in place to watch its most powerful systems for dangers such as helping with cyberattacks or biological and chemical weapons
2. Have an independent outside auditor check whether those controls work
3. Have a committee of its board of directors oversee safety and make sure problems get fixed

Do you support or oppose this accord?

Response	All voters n = 1,008	Democrats n = 335	Independents n = 311	Republicans n = 362
Support	61% (561)	49% (167)	59% (144)	75% (250)
Oppose	16% (211)	25% (96)	17% (69)	6% (46)
Not sure	23% (236)	25% (72)	24% (98)	19% (66)

Q2. Follow-up, asked of respondents who answered "not sure"

If you had to choose, which answer comes closest to your view? The accord description was repeated, followed by the same support-or-oppose question with no "not sure" option.

Response	All voters n = 236	Democrats n = 72	Independents n = 98	Republicans n = 66
Support	55% (127)	44% (32)	56% (52)	68% (43)
Oppose	45% (109)	56% (40)	44% (46)	32% (23)

Combined figures

Each group's follow-up answers added to its initial answers; derived from the rounded figures above, so rows may not sum to 100.

Response	All voters	Democrats	Independents	Republicans
Support	74%	60%	72%	88%
Oppose	26%	39%	28%	12%

© 2026 AI Policy Institute. Media inquiries: press@theaipi.org.